1. Coverage term

CLAUSE W-1. Standard refurbished devices are covered for twelve months from the documented purchase date. The warranty covers manufacturing defects and component failures that arise during ordinary use.

2. Accidental-damage add-on

CLAUSE W-2. Accidental screen or casing damage is covered only when the purchase record explicitly lists the Accidental Care add-on. Coverage remains subject to inspection and repairability.

3. Exclusions

CLAUSE W-3. Liquid exposure, deliberate alteration, missing ownership proof, theft, and damage caused by unsupported accessories are excluded from the standard warranty unless a separate written plan applies.

4. Battery safety

CLAUSE W-4. Suspected swelling, smoke, unusual heat, or chemical odor requires immediate safety escalation. The customer must stop using and charging the device. A swollen device must not enter the ordinary postal-return flow.

5. Decision authority

CLAUSE W-5. AI-generated recommendations are drafts. A claims supervisor must approve replacements, refunds, safety escalations, and any rejection relying on ambiguous evidence.

6. Evidence

CLAUSE W-6. Claims should include a purchase record, product identifier where available, issue description, and relevant media. Missing evidence may lead to a request for more information rather than automatic rejection.
